

MULTILINGUAL WEB COMMUNICATION

Distance-Learning Program

Our Multilingual Web Communication distance-learning degree is tailored for recent graduates having an educational background equivalent to a 4-year degree or for working professionals seeking to resume their studies. The program demands a high level of English, coupled with organizational and time management skills. Most importantly, each applicant must demonstrate a keen interest in one of the master's fields.

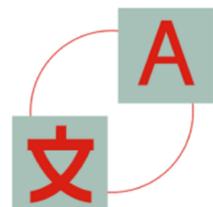

Fields of the Master's Degree:

English is required,
Foreign languages is optional

Digital marketing,
Search engine optimization (SEO)

Localization

Creation and management of multilingual websites

Web project management

Visual communication

UX design

Possibility of UX Design Specialization
(check out here for more information)

Academic Continuation

Direct entry into M2 through 4 years of higher education or significant professional experience

Professional Re-Entry

For those who are working full-time in parallel to their studies

Complete our distance-learning program in 1 or 2 years

Our master's offers a distance-learning program conducted entirely in English, designed to be finished within either one or two years. If you can allocate a significant amount of time each week to the program, completing it in just one year may be a suitable option. Alternatively, if your schedule is tight, the 2-year option is made for you.

Join us !

Contact